

Commas

Numbers

Rule 4.

Use a comma to separate numbers into groups of three in a number longer than four numbers

Examples

The new gaming console sold 12446698 units worldwide in its first month of release.

Some scientists estimate there are 10000000000 stars in our galaxy alone.

My friend thinks his new sneakers could sell at auction for $1437500.

Last year's viral TikTok dance challenge got 567890123 views in just one week.

The new gaming console sold 12,446,698 units worldwide in its first month of release.

→ Some scientists estimate there are 100,000,000,000 stars in our galaxy alone.

My friend thinks his new sneakers could sell at auction for $1,437,500.

Last year's viral TikTok dance challenge got 567,890,123 views in just one week.

Let's try

A rare Pokemon card could sell for $987654 at the collector's auction.

The stadium can hold 78912 screaming fans during concerts.

Our city's population grew to 232478 people last year.

The world's most expensive gaming PC setup costs $54950.

